Ike's Brother To Nominate Scranton

NEWSROOM NOTES—Tetanus is one of the most dangerous diseases that can strike a human being.

No antibiotic or other drug can halt a full-blown case, and about 60 per cent of those afflicted by the disease die.

Yet by means of immunization, tetanus is almost completely preventable.

The seeds, or spores, of tetanus can be found in the cultivated soils of most areas of the United States. They can be picked up by plants or animals, and introduced into the victim's body by something as seemingly inconsequential as the scratch of a thorn or insect bite.

Once they enter the body, these spores "hatch" into tiny, microscopic bacteria, which begin to multiply. In the process, they liberate one of the deadliest of all poisons which attacks the nerve centers causing convulsions and muscle spasms — some so severe that victims have been known to fracture a vertebra.

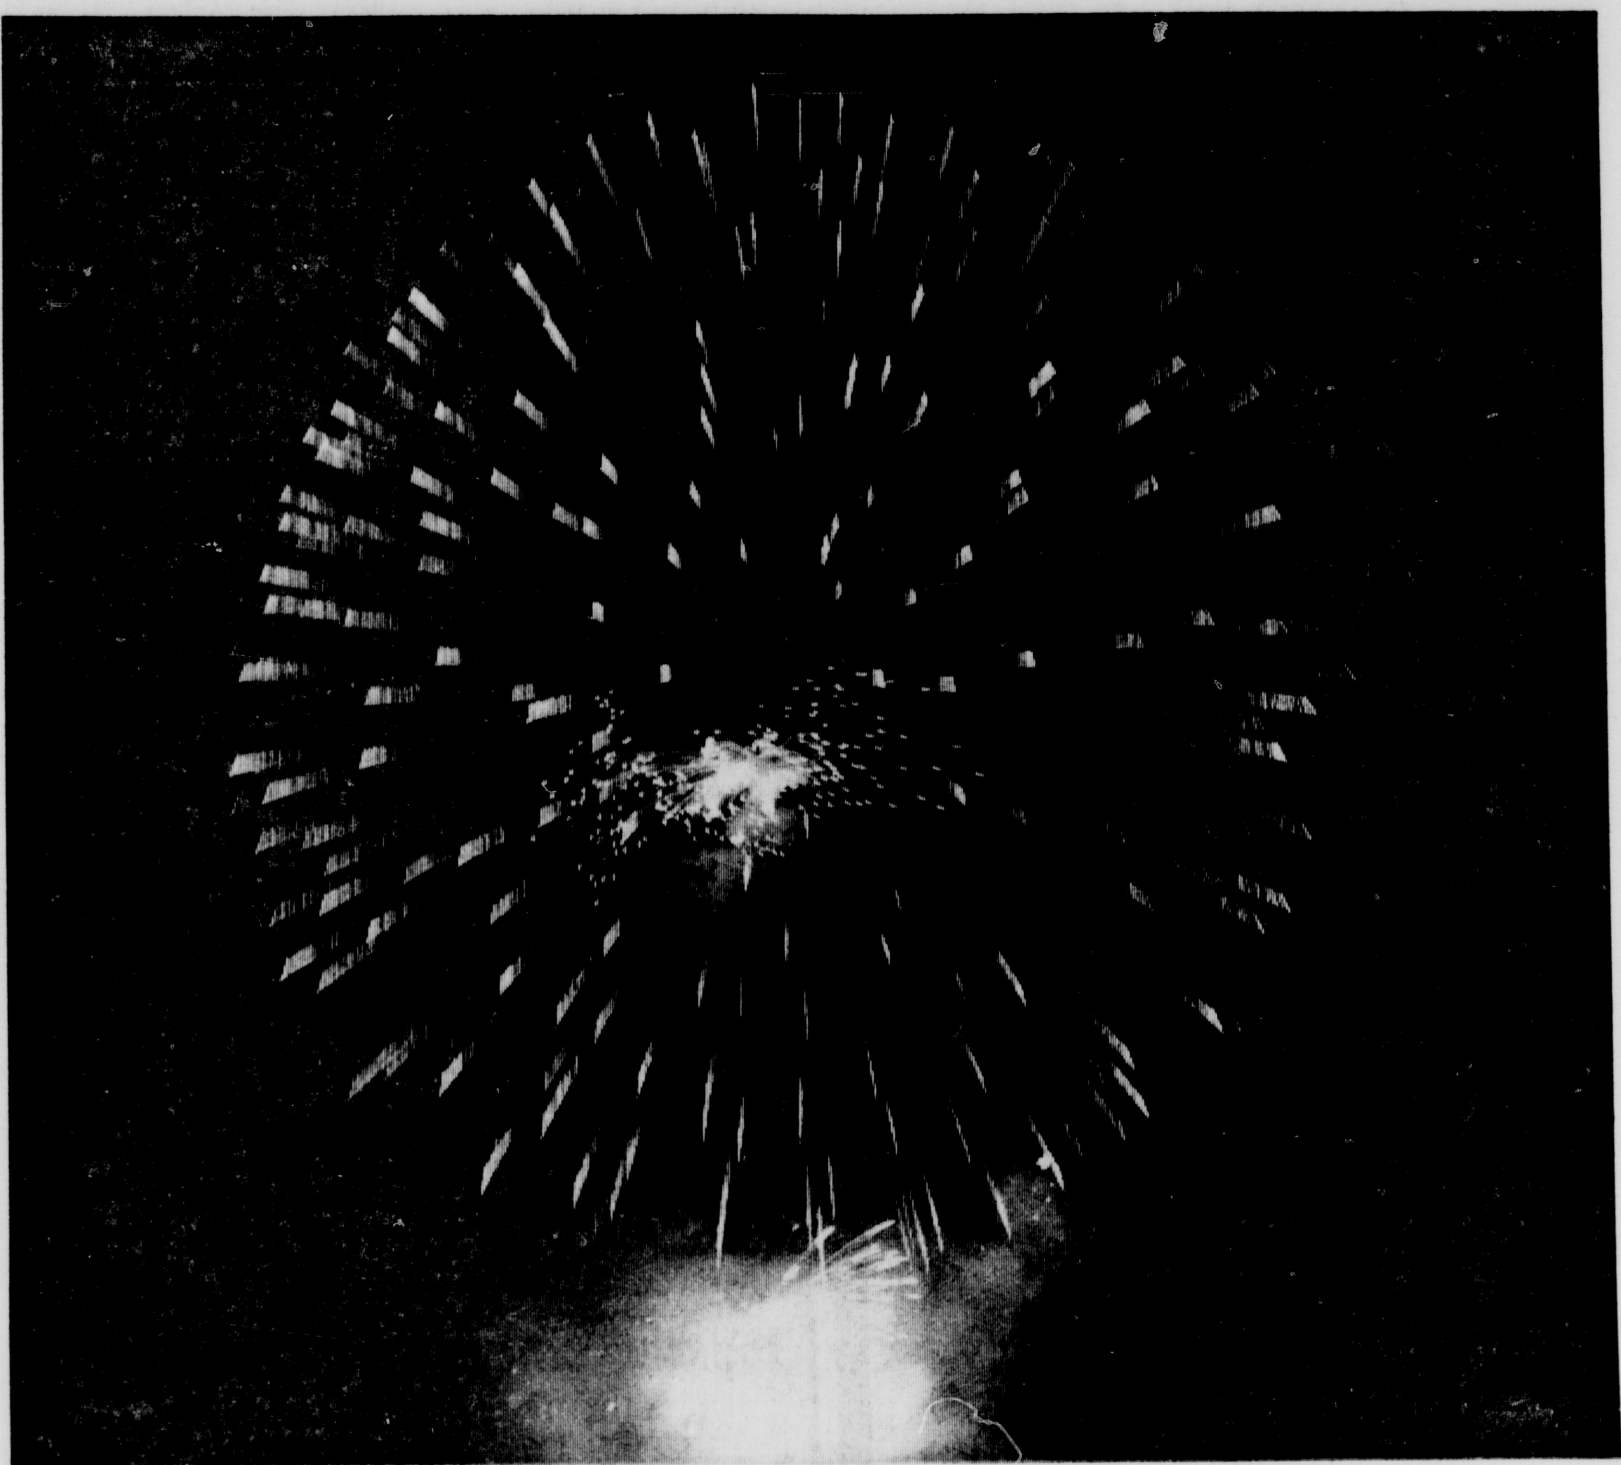

Usually the first nerves affected are those of the head and neck which control the chewing muscles. These turn rigid with spasm, giving the disease its familiar name—lockjaw.

In a clean, free-bleeding cut any tetanus spores which might contaminate the wound are usually washed out. Of if they do sprout into bacteria, the micro-organisms may be destroyed by oxygen in the blood.

But when blood flow is slight, as in deep puncture or crushing wounds, or when the spores are insulated by imbedded dirt and debris, the tetanus bacteria may gain a deadly foothold within the body. This is because tetanus bacteria thrive in the absence of air.

While millions of babies and members of the armed forces have been inoculated against tetanus, the fact remains that about three-fourths of the adult population is lacking in immunity. The reason is that the protection offered by immunization wears off after several years, and must be re-established by "booster" shots, which most people fail to get.

Protection should start early—one and a half to two months after birth—for the scrapes and falls of (See TAKE IT . . . Page 4)

Fireworks Symbolize Our Independence

An exceptionally large crowd lined both river banks, both bridges and more than 30 boats to view the spectacular fireworks display.

486 Die in Nation's Traffic Accidents

By The Associated Press

Traffic accidents took a record 486 lives during the three-day Fourth of July observance.

The toll was counted across the nation during the 78-hour weekend period from 6 p.m., Thursday (local time), to midnight Sunday.

The heavy death toll compared to the previous high of 442, set in a three-day Independence Day holiday period in 1960.

There was a sharp increase in fatalities in the last 24 hours of the 78-hour holiday period, with more than 175 deaths reported.

The National Safety Council had estimated the traffic deaths would total between 450 and 550. The council, until Sunday, had been hopeful that the final toll would be below its pre-holiday estimate. But with millions of motorists homeward bound from resorts and vacations, the death rate rose far above the earlier pace.

Twenty-two persons were killed by traffic accidents in Illinois during the Fourth of July weekend.

The most deadly day of the three-day holiday was Saturday when 11 of the victims died. Five deaths were reported Friday, and the others Sunday.

Platform Committee Starts Work

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The 1964 Republican platform writers start work today under formal notice from the Scranton camp that the fight over a civil rights plank is on.

Platform committee Chairman Rep. Melvin R. Laird of Wisconsin said at a news conference that Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton told him Sunday by letter and in a telephone conversation his backers will press for a party declaration that the 1964 Civil Rights Act is constitutional.

This amounts to a challenge to supporters of Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, who make up a majority of the platform committee.

Laird, preparing for a week's hearings with former Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce as the first witness tonight, repeated he does not think the week should be spent debating the constitutionality of the law.

Prompt implementation is the way to test it," he added.

He also said he could not recommend to the platform committee a proposal made Sunday by a Goldwater spokesman in San Francisco—that the party come out for putting into effect the 14th Amendment's representation penalties against states that restrict voting rights.

Tshombe to Form New Government

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — Moise Tshombe, former secessionist president of Katanga Province, announced today he would try to form a new Congolese government with himself as premier.

Tshombe said President Joseph Kasavubu had named him premier-designate. He said he was optimistic he could put together a Cabinet of "national reconciliation" to pacify the Congo's many warring factions.

Few Wrecks In Area Over Fourth

State Police Headquarters, Sterling, report four accidents within the Telegraph area during the Fourth of July weekend.

MOUNT MORRIS—Akshaven Leiba-badi, 25, Lafayette, Ind., was arrested for driving too fast for conditions following a one-car accident on a gravel road north and west of here at 1:15 p.m. Sunday.

According to State Police, Leiba-badi was traveling westbound about 60 miles per hour when his car went out of control, went through a bridge guardrail and landed in a creek.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,200.

Mary F. Handley, 16, 1121 W. Seventh St., Dixon, and a passenger in her car, Kathy Hepler, 15, Dixon, were treated and released from KSB Hospital following a one-car accident on Rt. 26, three miles south of Dixon, at 9:40 a.m. Saturday.

According to State Police, the driver said she was blinded by the sun and the northbound car hit a bridge.

The driver was ticketed for improper lane usage.

Damage to the vehicle was estimated at $500.

AMBOY—A car driven by Lee J. Carrico, 62, Rock Falls, went off the roadway and struck a ditch embankment on Rt. 52, four miles south of here, at 12:30 p.m. Friday, State Police said.

The driver and a passenger in the car, Emma Carrico, 61, were both injured.

The driver was ticketed for driving off the wrong side of the road. Damage to the car was estimated at $800.

LEE CENTER—A one-car accident occurred at 10:20 a.m. Friday on the Lee Center Road here and resulted in the driver being ticketed for driving too fast for conditions. According to State Police, Henry Hillison, 64, Franklin Grove, said he saw a truck on the roadway and applied the brakes of his truck which skidded off the roadway and hit a fence of the Lee County Grain Association.

Damage was estimated at $50 to the truck and at $50 to the fence.

GOP Hopeful Back in Illinois

CHICAGO (AP) — Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania announced today that Dr. Milton Eisenhower, brother of the former President, will nominate Scranton at the Republican National Convention next week.

Scranton opened a news conference with this statement:

"I am delighted and pleased to announce that Dr. Milton Eisenhower will nominate me for President at the Republican National Convention in San Francisco. Gen. Eisenhower knows about this and is very pleased about it. The general said that was the best news he heard yet."

Scranton spoke with reporters early in a fast two-day appeal for Illinois support built around the civil rights issue.

Scranton opened a last-ditch two-day campaign in the state of Abraham Lincoln. He sought to head off a first ballot nomination of his rival, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona at the GOP convention in San Francisco.

Scranton's schedule today was turned over to old-fashioned political campaigning — hand-shaking and shopping center rallies.

The agenda called for the governor and Mrs. Scranton to greet commuters using North Western Railroad trains in suburban Riverside and a rally at the Evergreen Plaza shopping center.

Scranton has said his aim is to arouse the public of Illinois to such an extent they will, in turn, pressure the state's 58-vote convention delegation to turn away from Goldwater.

Last week the delegates indicated in a poll they would give 48 first ballot votes to Goldwater. Eight delegates were uncommitted and two passed making a choice.

Civil rights was the keystone of the 46-year-old governor's campaign in Illinois because Goldwater voted against the civil rights bill signed into law by President Johnson last Thursday.

Scranton issued a civil rights "position paper" today, which again attacked Goldwater's position on the issue as "utterly incredible." He said the GOP is "committed to taking further steps at all levels of government" to end discrimination beyond the scope of the new civil rights law.

Scranton said in Fargo, N.D., last Friday that Goldwater as the GOP presidential candidate could lead to racial tension and possible violence this summer and fall.

African Nation Is Independent

BLANTYRE, Malawi (AP) — With fireworks and mountain bonfires lighting up the sky, 50,000 wildly cheering Africans celebrated the birth of Malawi early today.

At midnight the former British protectorate of Nyasaland became Malawi, Africa's 37th independent nation, after 73 years of colonial rule.

Illinois GOPs Say

Political Beliefs Won for Barry

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Republican leaders agreed today it was Barry Goldwater's political beliefs—not a master strategy plan—that won the Arizona Senator overwhelming support for the presidential nomination in the state's GOP delegation.

The little things helped, too, party leaders said, such as Goldwater's salesmanship and willingness to come into the state repeatedly for fund-raising affairs and to campaign in behalf of Illinois candidates.

By his count, Goldwater has appeared at 125 party functions in Illinois in the past 10 years and some leaders credit him with raising more than $6 million for the state's party coffers.

But as Victor L. Smith, state GOP chairman, put it in assessing

Goldwater's appeal to the party professionals:

"We have in Illinois perhaps more than any other state a great desire for conservative government. Goldwater was compatible with the feeling of a great number of people. They naturally gravitated to him."

An official poll of the Illinois delegation to the Republican National Convention in San Francisco next week gave Goldwater 48 votes. The other 10 delegates are uncommitted.

The ghost of the late Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio also fits into the picture. At the 1952 convention, Illinois delegates voted 59-1 for the conservative Taft despite the growing strength of Dwight D. Eisenhower, who got the nomination.

Smith and other party spokesmen said Illinois Republicans haven't changed basically since they were for Taft.

State Treasurer William J. Scott said the Goldwater support in Illinois came from what he called "grass roots leadership" and that any tactical moves found necessary were handled at that level.

Scott said Goldwater's cause was helped by an organized move among early Illinois backers to see that delegates favoring his candidacy ran in the April primary when 48 delegates were elected.

The election gave Goldwater a hard core of 31 delegates and six more were added to his column by the GOP state convention.

Before the showdown poll was taken last week, which boomed Goldwater's vote to 48 against none for Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania, the Goldwater adherents went to work on the uncommitted group.

Many of the undecided delegates were close friends of Goldwater delegates and it was not difficult to induce some to switch their stands, Scott said.

Five Prisoners Escaped From Jersey Jail

JERSEYVILLE, Ill. (AP) — Five prisoners escaped from the Jersey County Jail Sunday and rifled the jailer's apartment before they left, police said.

Hargiss Maholland, chief deputy sheriff, said the men apparently used keys to escape from their first- and second-floor cells and to enter Maholland's apartment.

Maholland said the prisoners ignored a case full of guns in his apartment and took only 10 or 11 rolls of dimes from a desk. Maholland and his wife were away from the jail at the time.

Aussie, Two U. S. Men Killed in S. Viet Nam

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Two American Special Forces men and an Australian army adviser were killed today in what other Americans described as a magnificent defense of a central highlands Special Forces camp under heavy Communist Viet Cong attack.

In a five-hour battle characterized by hand-to-hand fighting by troops and courage by a group of Vietnamese women nurses, at least 57 Vietnamese Special Forces men were killed, in addition to the Americans and the Australian.

And tangled over broken barbed wire of the outer perimeter of Nam Dan camp, 30 miles west of the northern city of Da Nang, were 48 Communist Viet Cong bodies, by the latest American count.

It was the third major Communist attack in the central highlands within a week.

On Saturday, Red guerrillas overran a U.S. Special Forces training camp for Vietnamese troops at Po-lei Krong, killing 45 Vietnamese and wounding 25 defenders, including two Americans.

The battle Monday at Nam Dan camp raised the number of Americans killed in combat in South Viet Nam since late 1961 to 151, with two others missing and presumed dead. Ninety-six other Americans have died in accidents.

About 200 Arrested in Fourth of July Riots

By The Associated Press

Police used tear gas, dogs and cattle prods to break up Fourth of July riots by youths at five places from coast to coast.

About 200 persons were arrested. Several officers and rioters were injured.

The riots occurred at Indian Lake, near Bellefontaine, Ohio; Newport, R.I.; Garnett, Kan.; West Yellowstone, Mont., and Pleasanton, Calif.

They were prompted in most cases by a combination of youthful exuberance and alcohol.

At Indian Lake, an estimated 5,000 to 10,000 beer-drinking college youths staged boisterous demonstrations Friday and Saturday nights.

"These kids were like a keg of dynamite waiting for something to set them off," a sheriff said.

More than 50 young men were arrested on the two nights. Tear gas was used to quell the rioting.

Authorities said firecrackers thrown into the crowds, injuring several youths, probably triggered the Saturday melee. One police officer suffered a heart attack.

Near Newport, R.I., thousands of youths attending the jazz festival started to whoop it up at a beach party. Beach house doors, beach umbrellas and a lifeguard stand were among items tossed onto a huge bonfire, police said.

About 100 youths were taken to jail when they hurled rocks and other missiles at officers. Police cleared the beach in about 90 minutes.

At Garnett, Kan., about 2,000 beer-drinking youths started a riot on an outdoor dance floor Saturday night.

Some Wildlife In Danger of Extinction

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department listed today some 60 birds, mammals, fish and reptiles of the United States possibly in danger of extinction.

The list includes the well-known whooping crane whose migrations and population are watched carefully, the nene goose of Hawaii, the Arctic Polar bear, the Southern bald eagle, the bighorn sheep and the little deer of the Florida keys.

The department announced it has named a special scientific team in its fish and wildlife service to make an intensive study aimed at preserving the rare or endangered forms of American wildlife.

Director Daniel H. Janzen of the bureau of sport fisheries and wildlife said many of the species are in trouble because complex forces of civilization are upsetting delicate life patterns.

For instance, he mentioned that some species are being harvested beyond their reproductive capacity, habitat is being destroyed and pollutants resulting from man's activities introduced into nature are silently attacking others.

In naming the endangered wildlife, the department noted that the list was by no means official and that scientists are not in complete agreement on whether some of the animals named were technically endangered.

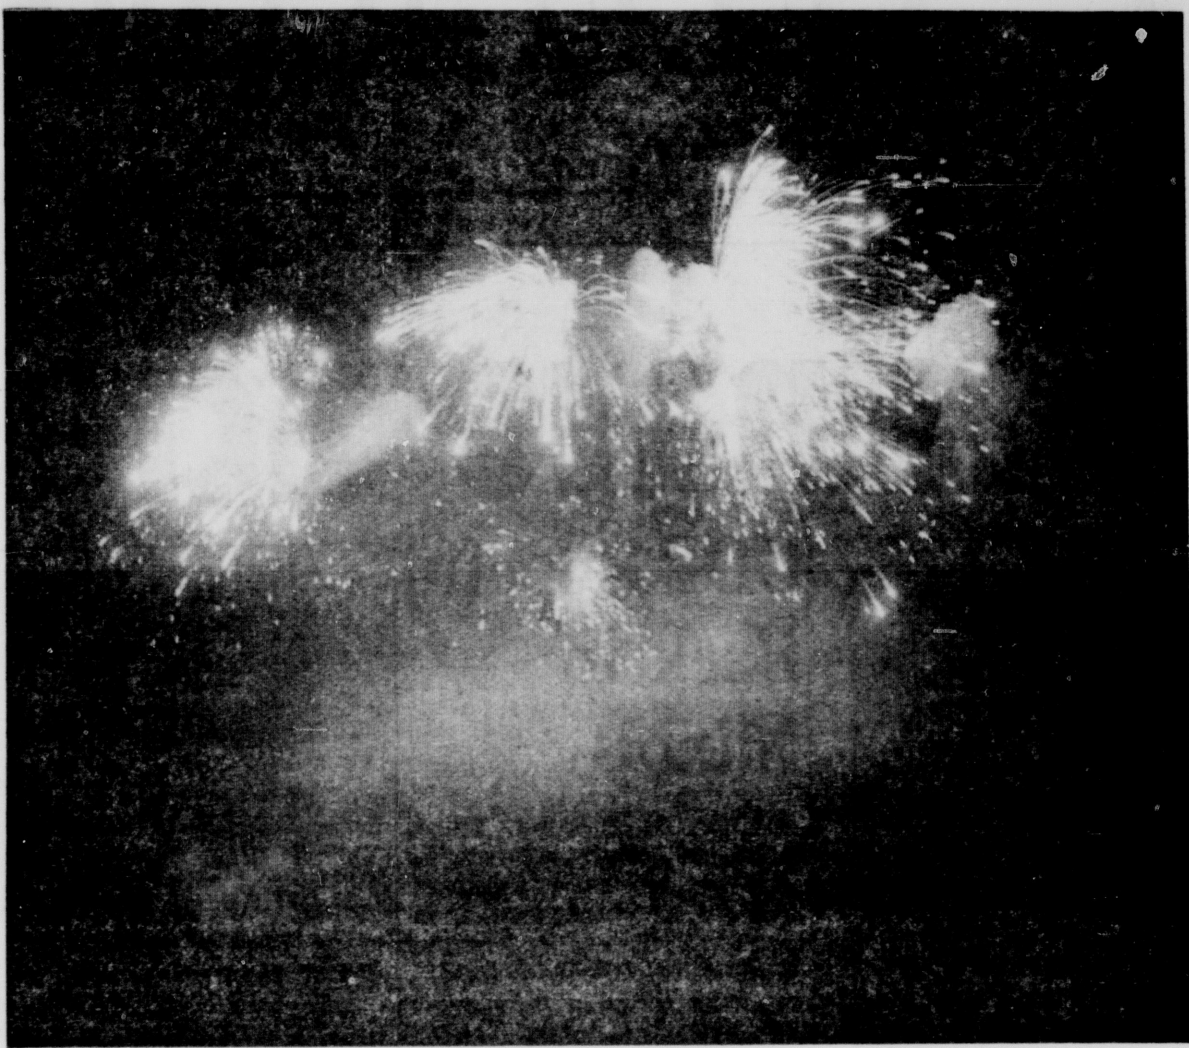

A species is considered "rare" when its numbers are small but its survival is not in jeopardy in the foreseeable future. When survival is seriously threatened, it is "endangered."

The department named 23 birds and 16 mammals of the United States which have become extinct. Most of the birds were in Hawaii at one time, but the list also includes the passenger pigeon which disappeared from North America about 1914, the heath hen of North America.

Among extinct mammals were the plains wolf, the California grizzly, the Badlands bighorn and the rimrock bighorn of California, Oregon and Washington.

On the endangered list were 35 birds, 16 mammals, 6 fish and 3 reptiles — the American crocodile, the American alligator and the green turtle of the Gulf of Mexico and Caribbean.

Others on the list included the greater prairie chicken of Central United States, the Florida Everglade kite, the American ivory-billed woodpecker, the Utah prairie dog, the walrus of Northern oceans, the Eastern fox squirrel, the Atlantic

“When I install electric heat I guarantee low operating cost”

Harold Hensley, President of Hensley Electric Company, Chicago Heights

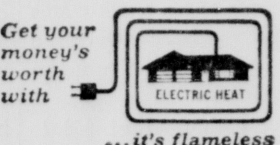

Harold Hensley's company has made more than 600 electric heat installations since 1958—and right now, Mr. Hensley is installing electric heat in another 628 homes under construction!

“Electric heat has really come of age,” he says—and he backs up his conviction by offering to guarantee the monthly heating cost on every one of these homes.

Today, by helping supervise construction from the outset, Public Service Company applies vast experience to the solution of each new building problem. Moreover, electric heat is now a better buy than ever, because electric heat rates today are 50% lower than they were in 1958!

Electric heat is clean, safe, the most comfortable heat by far. Separate thermostats let you control the temperature room by room, in every room—for Mom in the kitchen, Dad in his shower, Baby playing on the floor. And because electric heat burns no fuel, there's nothing to create dirt, dust, and fumes. Walls, ceilings, curtains, and furniture stay clean longer. There's little or no maintenance.

If you'd like more information about electric heat—the only really modern heat—please call your nearest Public Service Company office.

Washington News Notes

By The Associated Press
WASHINGTON (AP) — After receiving more than $45 billion in aid from the United States, European nations are now paying back loans and living out more in aid to the rest of the world than they now receive from the United States.

Officials of the Agency for International Development reported Saturday that U.S. aid to Europe for 1963 totaled $547 million, including $428 million in economic assistance and $419 in military aid. AID reported that "free world" industrialized countries — Western European nations plus Japan and Canada — stepped up their aid programs in 1963. Their 1962 aid total, the last one available, was $24 billion.

Between 1946 and 1963 U.S. aid to Europe totaled $45.8 billion, of which $11.2 billion was in loans and $34.6 billion in gifts. European repayments of loans during the same period amounted to $6.4 billion.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Allen Ellender, a Louisiana Democrat who fought enactment of the new civil rights law, says "flagrant and perhaps violent" disobedience of it would be "foolhardy and indefensible — much more indefensible and foolhardy than it might have been at some other time in our nation's past."

In a talk recorded for broadcast in Louisiana, Ellender said Saturday that if enforcement of the act is to be resisted, "it must be within the framework of the orderly processes established by law."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee opens three days of hearings Tuesday on possible monopolistic practices of the funeral industry.

Chairman Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said the committee's hearings would focus on possible restraining practices in pricing, deceptive selling and advertising limitations.

CARLYLE, Ill. (AP) — An AWOL soldier from Ft. Carson, Colo., has been captured by state police after an auto chase across part of Southern Illinois.

Troopers said they pursued a stolen car driven by Pfc. James L. Perrine, 21, of Huntington, W. Va., at speeds up to 110 miles an hour Saturday after he refused to pay for gasoline at a station near Summerfield. The chase ended 20 miles east of Carlyle.

A hitchhiker riding with him, Henry Smith, 19, of Pacific, Mo., was held for questioning.

Chicago Police Check Print

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago police checked a palm print Monday in an effort to apprehend burglars who hauled away a 450-pound floor safe with an estimated $20,000 worth of antique jewelry inside.

The safe was taken Saturday night from the North Side apartment of George D. Sax, board chairman of the Exchange National Bank of Chicago.

The burglars left a half million dollars worth of art objects in the apartment untouched.

Room Rates Raised at Northern

DEKALB — A new schedule of room and board rates calling for increases of from $15 to $25 a semester will go into effect in September for Northern Illinois University residence halls.

Rates for Lincoln and Douglas halls, newest residence halls on the NIU campus, will be increased from $400 to $415 a semester. The new rate for Gilbert, Neptune Group, Williston and Adams halls will be $410 a semester as compared to the former rate of $385.

University officials said the increases were due to several factors:

1. The 1964-65 calendar requires that all students be on campus a week longer than previously.

2. Starting in September, all residence hall rooms will have private telephone lines. (The new rates include the charge for telephone.)

3. All students in residence halls will be charged an additional $5. Discontinued was a $14 extra charge formerly made to freshmen who arrived on campus early for New Students' Week. The $5 increase reflects, in part, the continuing increase in food and labor costs.

Summer Session Enrollment May Reach 5,000

DEKALB — Another record-breaking Summer Session enrollment is in the offing at Northern Illinois University. Present registration totals 3,902 with the final count expected to approach 5,000.

Dr. George S. Pritchard, registrar, today announced preliminary enrollment figures. The 3,902 total residential registration includes students taking courses and workshops for credit and those attending classes at the Lorado Taft Field Campus at Oregon. It doesn't include students who will register for courses during the "post-session," Aug. 8-27, or for not-yet-begun workshops and institutes during the current 8-week session.

The 8-week session began June 15 and will end Aug. 7.

Pritchard said the 3,902 figure represents a 14.7 per cent increase over the 3,403 summer enrollment at this time a year ago. This compares with an 18.6 per cent increase from 1962 to 1963.

The 3,902 total eliminates duplications as a student is counted only once even if he is enrolled in both a course and a workshop for credit.

Pritchard said there are now 1,684 undergraduates and 2,218 graduates registered. Men outnumber women, 2,205 to 1,697. Enrollment at Taft and for workshops and other special courses amounts to 339, including 66 undergrads and 273 grads. Enrollment in 8-week courses numbers 3,563—1,618 undergrads and 1,945 grads.

An additional 409 students—249 undergrads and 160 grads—are enrolled in NIU summer extension courses. The extension total for the same time last summer was 154. Extension registration is not counted in the campus total.

Pritchard expects the final residential enrollment "to go near 5,000." Total enrollment for summer 1963 was 3,793.

Platteville, Wis.

City of Dixon, Dixon, Illinois

Dear Sir:

Our family traveled through your city Sunday and were so impressed. We were on our way back to Platteville from Warsaw, Ind., and Dixon, without a doubt, was the prettiest sight along the way.

We had never seen such a flower-bedecked city, such a relief from the many drab towns we went through.

We were so impressed and wanted to add our compliments to whom-ever is responsible.

Sincerely,
Mrs. James Berner

Miss Pfeiffer and Gary Tasker Are Married in Ashton Ceremony

ASHTON — Nuptial vows were exchanged June 21 in an afternoon ceremony held in the United Methodist Church by Miss Jacqueline June Pfeiffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn J. Pfeiffer, Ashton, and Gary Duane Tasker, son of the James G. Taskers, Knoxville.

The Rev. Clare B. Hewitt, pastor of the church, performed the double-ring wedding before an altar set with arrangements of white garden flowers and lighted tapers in seven-branched candelabras.

Musicians

Mrs. Lyle Warner, organist, accompanied Mrs. Sheldon Goodwin, Dahinda, as she sang "O Perfect Love," "Wedding Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Robert Tasker, Knoxville, was his brother's best man, and Mrs. James Ranney, Ashton, attended her sister as matron of honor. Mrs. Ranney and the bride's attendants, Miss Diane Rouleau, Riverside, and Mrs. Charles Meier, Ashton, wore identical floor length gowns of white silk organza over mint green taffeta styled with green schiffle embroidered bodices and floating back panels. Their headpieces were double hairbraids mint green crowns trimmed with pearls, and they carried arm bouquets of long-stemmed yellow roses accented by white satin bows.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, was attired in a gown of white nylon organza fashioned with a molded bodice featuring a scooped neckline trimmed with seed pearl embroidery. Her bouffant floor length skirt extended into a chapel train, and a pearl and crystal crown held her silk illusion veil. Ivy streamers encircled her cascading arrangement of white pompons centered with a corsage of white butterfly roses.

Lavender and beige accessories complemented the sheath dress of beige embossed silk worn by Mrs. Pfeiffer for her daughter's wedding, and the bridegroom's mother wore a dusty rose shantung dress designed with a lace bodice. She chose rose and white accessories and a white rose corsage, and Mrs. Pfeiffer wore a shoulder corsage of pink roses.

Attending Mr. Tasker as groomsmen were Lance Humphreys, Urbana, and Jack Ary, Palatine, and ushering was done by James Ranney and Ronald Lawson, Ashton; Fred Swanson, London Mills; Donald Johnson, Delong, and James Buckman, Maquon.

White tapers and garlands of myrtle trimmed the refreshment table arranged for a reception held in the church parlor following the service. The table, covered with a mint green cloth under white nylon net, was centered by a square tiered cake decorated with yellow roses. Additional arrangements of yellow flowers were placed throughout the reception room.

Wedding Trip

Red patent leather accessories and the corsage from her bouquet accented the navy blue and ivory sheath dress worn by the bride when the newlyweds left on a Wisconsin wedding trip. She is a 1960 graduate of Ashton High School, and Mr. Tasker graduated in 1958 from Knoxville High School. Both received degrees this year from Illinois State University, Normal, and have accepted positions as instructors in the public schools of Ashland where they will reside after spending the remainder of the summer in Galesburg.

Wedding guests from 40 Illinois cities were registered at their reception, and out-of-state guests were from Overland Park, Kan., and Salem, Ind.

It's worth having extra pie pans on hand so you can roll out pastry for a few pie shells at a time, then bake one for use right away and freeze the others.

Fashion Collections for Fall Feature Varied Styles in Suits

By HELEN HENNESSY

We ladies can't order a suit with two pair of pants. But New York designers have at least given us a chance to order one with a skirt and one pair of pants (matching, of course).

Many of the suits shown in the New York fall collections have an A-line, trouser pleated skirt, plus pants to wear with the suit jacket.

Hemlines haven't moved much in the past few seasons, but this time they went up. Skirts are shorter—some at mid-knee. And they are mobile—pleated, flared, paneled and gored.

Most jackets are long, many hip-length, and shoulders, generally, are wider than last year. You'll find collarless, cardigan jackets with diagonal closings from neck to hem. And there are open jackets, a la chanel, weskits and jackets with batwing sleeves that give a cape effect.

Leather tie belts play a big role in the fall suit scene as do handsome suit ensembles of skirt, blouse and matching stole.

Another new silhouette that promises to get big play is the bus boy suit—short, pocketed jacket and trouser pleated skirt.

The chaps on Madison Avenue gave up gray flannel as a uniform, and now we have it. Along with tweeds, printed wools, men's suitings, with ribbon trim for softness, and bold checks, gray flannel leads the suit fabric parade.

Gray is the No. 1 color from pearl to charcoal. Important also are black, navy, espresso brown, carnation

Miss Kufer and Charles Rizner Speak Vows in Lombard Church

Miss Judith Katherine Kufer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert M. Kufer, Lombard, became the bride of Charles G. Rizner, son of Mrs. Frank Sibigroth, Dixon, in a June 27 ceremony held in Lombard's Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

The Rev. L. J. Anton, pastor of the church, was officiating clergyman for the morning double-ring wedding which was followed by a reception and buffet luncheon for 100 guests in Villard Hall.

Organza Gown

The floor length gown of white silk organza over nylon taffeta selected by the bride for her wedding, was worn with a shoulder length illusion veil attached to a coronet headpiece. The gown's bodice, featuring a scooped neckline, was embroidered with pearls and bugle beads, and her flowers were white roses combined with ivy streamers.

She was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by Miss Marylou Batty, Rockford, maid of honor, and Miss Sandra Carpenter, Lombard, cousin of the bride, and Miss Shirley Sibigroth, Dixon, the bridegroom's sister, as bridesmaids. Their pastel blue sheath dresses were accented by floor length overskirts, and they carried bouquets of yellow pompons and white lilies.

Mrs. Kufer was attired in a two-piece aqua silk crepe costume for her daughter's wedding, and a pale blue two-piece dress was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Both chose white accessories and gold cymbidium orchid corsages.

Murrie Grove, Dixon, acted as best man for Mr. Rizner; groomsmen were Thomas Grove, Dixon, and the bride's brother, Robert Kufer, Lombard, and ushering was done by David Freeman, Normal, and Warren Stultz, Grand Detour.

Wedding guests from Dixon, Lombard, Palatine, Glen Ellyn, Villa Park, Des Plaines, Wheeling and from South Bend and Hammond, Ind.; Fond du Lac, Wis., and San Francisco, Calif., were registered during the reception by Miss Joanne Sibigroth, Dixon, and a tiered wedding cake was served by Miss Kathy Carpenter, Lombard.

Black patent leather accessories complemented the pink crepe dress worn by the new Mrs. Rizner for the couple's Wisconsin wedding trip.

A graduate of North Central College, Naperville, where she earned a bachelor's degree in English, she is employed as English and speech instructor in the high school at Franklin Grove.

with light-weight summer garments freshly drycleaned the Martinizing way

Hot, humid weather causes fabrics to wilt — which results in a tendency for the air spaces between the fibers to close up. Combine this with perspiration and the fabric can no longer "breathe" properly. Result: your garment tends to hold in more body heat... and you suffer. One Hour Martinizing's exclusive drycleaning process removes all perspiration and stains, revitalizes the fabric and permits it to "breathe" again. And when you put on your immaculately drycleaned garment, you'll feel the crisp freshness... you'll look and feel your best during summer's hottest weather. When the Fog Rolls In

The Democratic ambassador to South Viet Nam, Henry C. Lodge, has returned to this country to take up his duties as a political hatchet man for Willie Scranton, the "Little Lord Fauntleroy" of the frenzied and scared money interests, the left wingers and the self-styled "King Makers" on the Eastern sea board. Lodge has done an outstanding job of making a mess out of South Viet Nam.

To our way of thinking he is going to make a bigger mess out of Scranton. Of course, Scranton has been working hard at it himself and has a head start of making a mess out of himself. To our way of thinking Governor Scranton is making a donkey out of himself and there is another name for a donkey and perhaps that would be more appropriate. There is absolutely no excuse for a so-called Republican to spend his time running down another Republican—especially such a long time and honored, sincere, honest, courageous man like Senator Barry Goldwater.

We think Scranton has cooked his goose when he called in Dewey and Lodge and we are certain there are millions of other sound thinking good Americans who feel this same way about it.

We would liken these little men, these party wreckers, to a sneaking fog that rolls in over the prairies in the dead of night—it is dangerous and you know it is there but you just can't reach out and put your fingers on it. We are sure that these foggy boys are not going to change one single delegate and sway him from his honest convictions.

There is nothing on God's green earth that is going to stop this terrific surge to Senator Goldwater. America is awakening to what is being done to it and we predict that the great mass of home loving, God fearing, plain people of our great country—like a thundering herd—are going to sweep Barry Goldwater into the White House in Washington and put these United States of America back on an even keel and stop the senseless wasting of taxpayers' money for votes.

Governor Scranton says he is worth $9,000,000 dollars, made presumably from his family coal mining interest in Scranton, Pennsylvania. We have a suggestion for you Willie Scranton—why don't you go back to your family diggings and "run the company store"? Then we'll all be happy.

Hal Boyle Opens His Mail Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

At the age of 25, some 35 per cent of Americans need to wear glasses.

What are the goals of teen-age girls? A study showed that most want to be either housewives or airline hostesses. Only one in five preferred office work.

Teen-age boys, on the other hand, showed interest in careers in aviation, professional athletics, business, the armed forces, and engineering. Missing among the top 20 occupational choice of male high school seniors were roles as scientist, newspaperman, doctor, minister, teacher — or president of the United States.

Twenty million Americans are taking care of 650 million pet fish.

Quotable notables: "Worry affects the circulation, the heart, the glands, the whole nervous system. I have never known a man who died from overwork, but many who died from doubt."—Dr. Charles H. Mayo.

Nature notes: Rodents cause more property damage than tornadoes. A rattlesnake usually grows two, not one, rattles each year. Meadowlarks aren't true larks — they belong to the black-bird family. Giraffes have such poor voices they "talk" to each other by switching their tails.

U.N. medical studies indicate that the United States now has passed France as the world's most alcoholic nation. One out of 20 Americans is thought to be a problem drinker.

"There are more oil glands per square inch on a woman's face than there are oil wells in Texas," says Dr. John R. Hasek, Cleveland skin specialist.

The originator of the presidential "whistle-stop campaign" was William Jennings Bryan. In 1896 he traveled 18,000 miles by railroad and made 600 speeches. William McKinley waged a back-porch campaign—and won handily.

Folklore: If you see a red-haired girl, you will soon see a white horse. If you throw a small fish back into the water, it will tell the other fish, and no more will bite. It is bad luck to kill a daddy-longlegs or a ladybug. If a girl gets the front of her dress wet while doing her laundry, she will marry a drunkard.

It was Oscar Wilde who observed, "The books that the world calls immoral are books that show the world its own shame."

Today in History

By The Associated Press

Today is Monday, July 6, the 188th day of 1964. There are 178 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1776, on hearing the news of the Declaration of Independence, a New York mob destroyed a lead statue of King George III. The statue provided lead for 42,000 bullets.

On this date: In 1747, American naval hero John Paul Jones was born.

In 1837, the Republic of Texas sent an ambassador to Washington.

In 1920, the Democratic party nominated Franklin D. Roosevelt for vice president on a ticket headed by James M. Cox of Ohio.

In 1944, a circus tent fire in Hartford, Conn., killed 167 persons.

Ten years ago—President Dwight D. Eisenhower's representative in the Middle East, Eric Johnston, reported Jordan, Lebanon, Syria and Israel had agreed in principle to share the water of the River Jordan through a unified project.

Five years ago—The State Department announced that Burma had agreed to accept U.S. economic aid, reversing a six-year refusal to accept American assistance.

Dear Ann:

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Why don't you mind your own business and stick to counseling mixed-up people who are having marital problems?

As an embalmer and undertaker I resent your advice to the woman who wanted to know if it was proper to leave glasses on a person laid out for viewing. You said the idea of displaying the deceased was to suggest that the person was "sleeping." You added, and I quote, "Since it is unlikely that people sleep with their glasses on they should be left off."

If this were true, Ann Landers, why are policemen and firemen traditionally laid out in full uniform with the right hand holding the visor of the cap across the heart? Do you think policemen and firemen sleep in their uniforms and take their hats to bed with them? General MacArthur lay in state, resplendent in five-star regalia. Are you under the impression that General MacArthur slept in that outfit?

Speaking of sleep, I think you must have been in a fairly deep slumber yourself when you wrote that reply. Why don't you admit you were wrong and apologize?

—NO NAME PLEASE

Dear No Name: All right. So they aren't sleeping.

Eye glasses are designed to improve the sight, no? If you should ever hear of a case where glasses over the closed eyes of a person (either living or dead) achieved this, will you please let me know?

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I do not smoke. We have no ash trays in our home, and this is not an oversight, believe me. It is a way of letting our guests know we don't want anyone smoking when they visit in our house.

Last evening a new business associate of my husband's came over. The very first thing he did was light a cigarette. He then looked around the room for an ash tray, and seeing none he said, "I guess nobody around here smokes." With that he flicked his cigarette ashes in his pants cuff.

I went to the kitchen and brought him a saucer and said as coolly as I could, "Please use this."

Now I think I made a mistake by supplying the lumox with the saucer. I should have told him off. I know you are a non-smoker. How do you feel about this?

—MAD AT MYSELF

Dear Self: Not as vehemently as you do. Nonetheless, a considerate person, when he sees no ash trays around, should take the hint.

Dear Ann Landers: I am 14 and have a mad crush on a boy who lives in Omaha. Rod and I met at camp and have been corresponding since last year.

My father says Rod is an idiot just because he writes cute things on

Ruth Millett

What gives a woman status in the eyes of other women?

A few weeks ago I asked my readers to help me find the answer to that question, raised by a correspondent who claimed that today women judge other women by such superficial standards as: How much money does her husband earn? Does she lead the pack in knowing what's "in" and what's "out"? Is she a best-dressed member of the "right" crowd? Does she spend her time and money where it will make the biggest show?

"Is that really how women judge other women?" I asked the women of America, and they answered with deep seriousness. It is a question that American women, in these changing times, consider important.

And so they sat down and thought about it—thought about the women they admire most and why they admire them. And then they wrote me their conclusions.

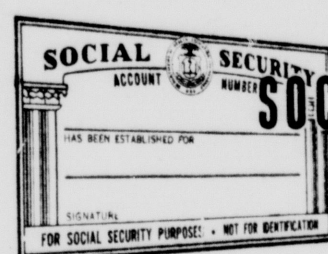

Here, from letters from small towns and big cities from every section of the United States, are the REAL standards by which women judge each other. "The woman I admire most," say American women:

- Likes her husband and lets others know it.
- Is a good mother, whose children are being trained in the ways that

- Has the kind of quiet poise which comes from being at peace with herself and those around her.
- Gives of her time to her community and to her church, without neglecting her family.
- Contributes ideas, instead of gossip when she is in a group.
- Takes pride in her appearance, without making it a full-time job.
- Keeps alive her own individuality and pursues her interests instead of burdening her husband and children with the knowledge that they are her whole life.

Those are the qualities that women referred to over and over as being the ones they most admired. And though not one woman claimed all of those qualities for herself, many said they knew women who had them all. One woman ended her letter with this promise to herself:

"You have done us all a favor. Now that you've made me sit down and see clearly what I admire in others, I'm going to tape my list in my kitchen cabinet and read it every day for inspiration."

SOCIAL SECURITY

Questions and Answers

Question—I have two social security account numbers; which one should I use?

Answer—If you have worked under both numbers, see your nearest social security district office so that the earnings record set up under each number can be combined into a single record. If you do use more than one number, all your earnings would not be credited to one account and you or your family might lose some rights to benefits.

Question—I got a social security card years ago but have misplaced it. I know the number by heart and have been reciting it from memory to past employers. My present employer insists on seeing the card. What shall I do?

Answer—Request a duplicate card from your social security office. The Social Security Administration urges all employers to copy the name and social security number of each new employee from the card to prevent any possible error that might occur when people give the wrong number from memory.

Question—I have been living at the same address since I got my social security card ten years ago. I will be moving next month. How do I go about changing my address with social security?

Answer—You are not required to report such a change of address unless you are receiving social security benefits.

Question—This summer I will be working for my father and uncle who own a grocery store in partnership. Will my work be covered by social security?

Answer—Yes. Services performed by a child under age 21 in the employment of a partnership is covered if it is not a partnership composed of both parents, or a natural parent and a step-parent. You will need a social security card when you go to work regardless of your age.

If people would stop to think they'd think to stop saying things that hurt other people.

A person who gives up too easily winds up with little to give.

The Doctor Says

"To say 'goodbye' is to die a little," a poet once said. Now, Dr. F. A. Pedersen of the National Institute of Mental Health has investigated what emotional damage may be done to children by frequent family moves.

Although moving is a part of life for many persons these days, Dr. Pedersen limited his study to boys from military families. Emotional disturbances showed up in difficulties with studies and school authorities, truancy, vandalism and various neuroses.

The doctor studied 27 disturbed boys and compared them with 30 normal boys also from military families. The average age in both groups was 13 years. They had moved an average of 9 times in their lives. One of the normal boys had moved 17 times! It seemed there had to be some factor other than moving to account for the abnormal behavior of the emotionally disturbed group.

For one reason or another the mother of these boys disliked moving and disliked their husbands' occupation. Most significant of all, they blamed the faulty behavior of their sons on the fact that they had to change schools so often. The parents of the normal boys on the other hand loved to see new places and believed that each move was both an opportunity and a challenge which in the long run would broaden the minds of their sons.

Thus it became evident that it was not the moves but the preconceived fear of the effect of the moves on their children that was the cause of the difficulty. This bears a close parallel to the studies that showed that a parent's fear that his normal child was beginning to stutter is actually the underlying cause of stuttering.

Q—Our 6-month-old son has had a hydrocele since birth. What do you advise?

A—A hydrocele is an accumulation of fluid in the scrotal sac. This is rather common in infancy and, since it causes no harm, nothing need be done at present. In most boys the swelling disappears spontaneously. If the hydrocele is still present when he reaches adolescence you should consult your doctor and you should con-

Rock City Boy Killed by Tractor

ROCK CITY, Ill. (AP) — A farming accident Sunday took the life of Richard Elders, 13, on his parents' farm near Rock City. He fell off a tractor and was crushed under the front wheel of a loaded hay wagon, officials said.

CONVENTIONS AND CRISES/ The Republicans

by Don Oakley and Ed Kudlaty

"In all free governments, contentions in elections will take place . . . I trust, however that the good sense of our countrymen will guard the public weal against this and every other innovation."

So wrote George Washington in 1797, when the American two-party system was in its infancy and long before the always contentious and often explosive party nominating conventions began to be held every four years.

Although Washington tried to stand above parties, the revolutionaries who founded the United States of America divided into two major camps almost from the beginning. Now, once again, Americans—still armed with good sense—are bracing themselves for the quadrennial spectacles of the Republicans and the Democrats, the elephants and the sons of the wild jackass.

The first party nominating convention was held in Baltimore in 1831 by the Anti-Masonic Party (one example of the ideas contributed to American politics by the many short-lived splinter parties that have come and gone).

By the late 1850s, the two major parties were the Whigs and the Democrats. But the Whigs were politically bankrupt and the Democrats were splitting over the issue of slavery. In 1854, a new party, the Republican Party, had been formed and had begun attracting the Whigs and a host of dissident factions.

In 1860, the Republican star was high. All they needed was the right candidate.

When the Second Republican National Convention opened in Chicago in May in the huge wooden "wigwam," leading contender for the presidential nomination was the respected Sen. William H. Seward of New York. But Chicago was far from the east in those days. Westerners were determined to decide the candidate—and the man for them was Abraham Lincoln, one-time Whig congressman from Illinois and famed debater of Democrat Stephen Douglas.

The well-organized Lincolnites began to high-pressure the delegates. Judge David Davis, Lincoln's campaign manager, and Senator Cassius Clay of Kentucky argued that no one but the Rail Splitter could win the confidence of the people in the coming days of crisis. They were not above making deals, which later came back to plague Lincoln. A delay in getting tally sheets from the printer gave them added time to erode Seward's support.

When voting began, Lincoln was nominated on the third ballot. Sen. Hannibal Hamlin of Maine was chosen as his running mate.

Lincoln went on to win over Douglas. One month after the election, the first southern state seceded.

Eight Killed
In Two-Car
Accident

BOWLING GREEN, Mo. (P)—Eight persons, died Sunday when a car driven by a man police had arrested earlier for speeding collided head-on with a station wagon.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said the dead were:

Willie Walker, 45, of Milwaukee, who was alone in the car; Harold W. Marshall, 48, of Kane, Ill., driver of the station wagon; his wife, Mrs. Clara Marshall, 47; their daughter, Janice Marshall, 24, of St. Louis; Mrs. Herberta Crawford, 34, of Kane; Mrs. Crawford's two sons, David, 4, and Lawrence, 14; Catherine Goodall, 14, of Kane.

Highway patrol Sgt. Paul Volkmer said he arrested Walker 90 minutes before the accident near Mexico, Mo., about 50 miles from the accident scene.

Volkmer said Walker was charged with driving 90 miles an hour in a 65-mile an hour zone. The highway patrol said Walker was released after he posted a $51 bond.

The highway patrol said the car was traveling about 100 miles per hour when it veered across the center line on a curve and collided with the station wagon.

Police said the Marshalls were on their way to a girl's camp at the Lake of the Ozarks. They were scheduled to pick up one of their daughters and one of Mrs. Crawford's daughters.

Miss Goodall, a friend of the two girls at the camp, was riding with the Marshalls.

The Missouri Highway Patrol said Walker had a record of 11 traffic violations in Milwaukee.

The accident occurred on U.S. 54, four miles east of Bowling Green.

Sox Hurlers Handcuff Indians; Cubs Lose

By JOE MOOSHLI
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — If Al Lopez were tempted to take his entire Chicago White Sox pitching staff to New York for the All-Star game Tuesday nobody could blame him.

Especially after the way the Sox hurlers treated the Cleveland Indians in the four-game series over the weekend. The Sox lost the opener 2-1 in extra innings and then came back with three successive shutouts over the Tribe.

Conceivably, it could have been four shutouts if it wasn't for rookie Fred Talbot's wild pitch allowing a run in the first inning of Friday night's game. If Talbot had the pitch back, the Sox might not have lost in extra innings and could have won 1-0.

Gary Peters, last year's Rookie of the year, followed with a three-hit shutout Saturday. Juan Pizarro and Joe Horlen kept the Indian sign on the Indians Sunday with 2-0 and 5-0 shutouts.

Pizarro was a little shaky at the start but successive first inning home runs by Mike Herschberger and Pete Ward proved to be enough for the southpaw's 11th victory. He stopped the Indians on seven hits and retired the last 13 men in a row.

Horlen came back with a four-hit masterpiece in the nightcap, getting ample hitting support in the first three innings.

The performances lifted the Sox into second place in the American League race, three percentage points ahead of the New York Yankees and three games behind the Baltimore Orioles.

Lopez, who will pilot the American League All-Stars, had only one regret about the first half of the season.

"I'm only sorry we're not in first place," said the Sox manager. "But I've maintained all along that we have good pitching and can win the pennant."

"We haven't had any hitting at all and we're still in the race," he continued. "Certainly we should get some hitting one of these days."

Lopez has not forgotten that the Sox have lost all 10 games they have played with the Yankees, but he avoided any reference to the defeats except to say "we got some pretty good pitching in some of those games."

Not only is Lopez looking forward to some hitting help in the second half of the season but also to more pitching now that Ray Herbert is off the disabled list.

Herbert, a former 20-game winner generally regarded as the Sox' top right-hander, should be ready to take a regular turn once he gets back into shape.

The Chicago Cubs suffered a 7-1 setback at the hands of the Milwaukee Braves Sunday. The Braves jumped on Dick Ellsworth for five runs in the first three innings and tagged the slender southpaw with his eighth defeat against 10 triumphs.

Chicago's only run came in the fourth inning on Billy Cowan's 12th home run. Ron Santo, hero of Saturday's ninth-inning triumph, collected three more hits while slumping Billy Williams went hitless in four at bats.

After the All-Star game Tuesday, the Cubs return home to open a five-game series with San Francisco beginning with a doubleheader Wednesday.

Patterson Starts Comeback with Impressive Win

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — Floyd Patterson, the former world heavyweight champion, wants another crack at the title "very, very much" but most of all he wants to fight Sonny Liston again.

He took a big step toward these goals by decisively outpointing Eddie Machen in their 12-round bout here Sunday night before 40,000 at the Raasdalen outdoor stadium.

Liston lifted the heavyweight title from Patterson with a first round knockout in Chicago in 1962 and shattered Floyd's self-confidence with another first-round knockout in their return title go at Las Vegas last summer. Cassius Clay then added to Patterson's chagrin by winning the title from Liston at Miami Beach last February.

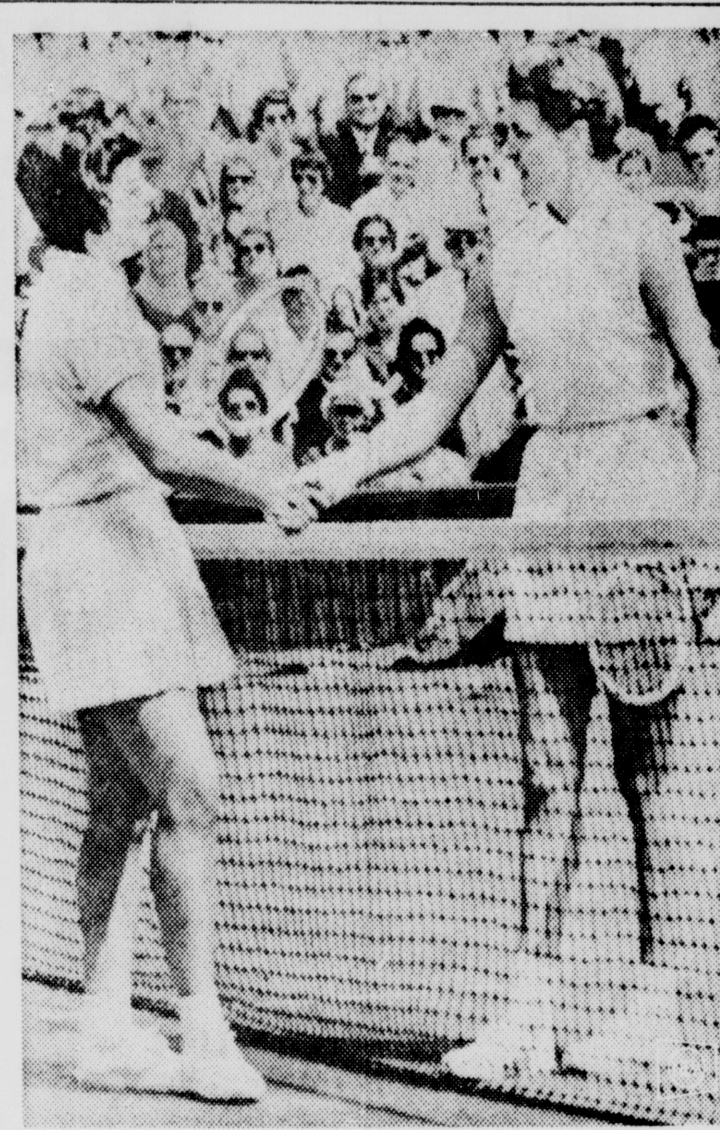

The ego of the 29-year-old former champ from New York appeared considerably bolstered by his cool

Unbelieving Nicklaus Tops Palmer

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

WHITEMARSH, Pa. (AP) — "Congratulations Jack, you've won," a well wisher told Jack Nicklaus in the locker room at the Whitemarsh Valley Country Club Sunday.

Nicklaus eyed the visitor and inquired:

"Has anyone told Arnie?"

Arnold Palmer at that moment was playing the 17th hole and was three strokes behind Nicklaus, who had posted a four-round 12-under-par 276 in the Whitemarsh Open.

"It would be just like him to knock in an eagle and a birdie and tie the thing," Nicklaus said.

It was typical of the respect Palmer's colleagues feel for the biggest money winner of them all. Throughout the $125,000 Whitemarsh Open, the leaders always seemed to look back over their shoulder and inquire, "Where's Palmer?"

Palmer didn't make it this time. Nicklaus' five-under-par 69 final round erased the six stroke 54-hole lead held by Juan (Chi Chi) Rodriguez, and won him the $24,000 first prize.

Nicklaus edged Palmer by one stroke Sunday after both came from way back to take the big money. Player, who earned $16,000 for second place, made up five strokes on the field in the final round.

Player finished with a 69-70-69-69—277, one stroke ahead of Palmer who had a 68-70-67-73. Nicklaus had rounds of 69-70-70-67.

Milwaukee Readies For Braves' Pullout

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee County executive John Doyle faces the Milwaukee Braves are headed elsewhere and the city should begin immediately to look for another baseball team.

"I thought baseball was a sport," Doyle said Sunday night in the latest in a series of blistering comments. "But since it obviously is a business, we'll have to treat it as such. We should exert every effort to wean away another club should the Braves leave. And, frankly I'm scared they are."

He said the most likely targets for "feelers now" should be Cleveland in the American League and Cincinnati in the National League.

Commenting in the wake of another round of reports that the Braves are headed for Atlanta for the 1965 season, Doyle said Saturday night that "if the Braves pull up stakes for Atlanta it would be

Drysdale, Chance To Face-Off In Tuesday's All-Star Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — Right hander Don Drysdale was named today the starting pitcher for the National League and Dean Chance, also a right-hander, was nominated to open for the American League in Tuesday's All-Star Game at Shea Stadium.

Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers, who has an 11-7 record for the regular season and a 2.06 earned run average, was selected by Walt Alston of the Dodgers, the National League manager. Drysdale has not pitched since Friday and is well rested.

Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, manager of the American League, had a more-difficult decision. He had eight pitchers on his staff, all of whom had pitched either Saturday or Sunday. Lopez decided to tap Chance of the Los Angeles Angels who has a 5-5 record and a 2.19 ERA.

Some 40,000 tickets have been sold for the 35th All-Star Game, to be held for the first time at the new, 55,000-seat Shea Stadium. The game at noon, EST, will be televised nationally.

Two American League stars already have been declared out of the game, and there is a strong possibility that quite a few of the outstanding pitchers in the majors will spend the day in the bullpen.

Reserve outfielder Al Kaline of Detroit was ruled out when the Tigers notified the American League that he had suffered a severely bruised left ankle in Saturday's game. Rocky Colavito of Kansas City will replace him. Earlier, Boston shortstop Eddie Bressoud replaced Baltimore's Luis Aparicio, who is nursing a pulled groin muscle.

The pitching situation has been the same story for many years, prompting Casey Stengel, manager of the New York Mets who will be one of the National League's coaches, to suggest that baseball pass a rule prohibiting use of All-Star pitchers the Sunday before the game.

The result of the game however, may rest with the sluggers. The American League line-up includes Harmon Killebrew, Bob Allison and Tony Oliva of the Twins and Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees. The National League muscle men will be led by Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants and Billy Williams of the Chicago Cubs.

'Iron Peg' Noses Into U.S. Turfs

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Iron Peg, virtually unknown two months ago, has stuck his nose into the American turf's handicap division title by proving he can carry his vaunted speed over a distance of ground.

The son of Dark Star, 1953 Kentucky Derby winner, with the blood of the speedy Roman flowing through his veins, was unraced as a 2-year-old. As a 3-year-old he was sent to England by Harry F. Guggenheim, owner of the Cain Hoy Stable. He did nothing there to distinguish himself in five races, except for setting the pace for one mile of the English Derby.

It has been a different story since he made his 4-year-old debut in this country May 12 at Aqueduct last Saturday when he came up against Kelso, champion American thoroughbred the last four years, and Olden Times, winner of four straight, in the 1 1/4 miles of the $110,000 Suburban Handicap at Aqueduct.

With Manuel Ycaza in the saddle, he let Olden Times set the pace for one mile, then bounded to the front and staved off Kelso's stretch challenge for a victory in 2:01 4/5 over a dull track. Olden Times faded to third, four lengths back.

Kelso, still looking for his first major victory of the year after four starts, picked up top weight of

Rougher Campaign Predicted If Goldwater Gets the Nod

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater has indicated that if he gets the Republican presidential nomination his campaign against President Johnson will be rougher than those of recent years.

But he has been moving cautiously in his double task of trying to cool any opposition to him among Republicans while going ahead with his efforts to sew up the nomination. The Associated Press recently asked him his position on a number of issues. The answers, prepared by his staff from some of his recent statements, were released over the weekend.

He was asked what the main campaign issues will be. Several were listed and wound up with this: "... the dark shadow of scandal that hangs even over the White House itself." There has been no scandal talk in recent campaigns.

There was no explanation for what Goldwater meant. But, since he considers this a main point, it can be assumed he would hammer away at it.

If Goldwater gets the nomination, which looks likely, he will opening next Monday in San Francisco.

As the Republican platform committee gathered there Sunday for days of hearings before hammering the party's positions and promises together, the Scranton forces' strategy was obvious: How to create divisions at the hearings and come up with conclusions the Goldwater forces couldn't support.

The senator and his advisers had plenty of time to prepare for such a move. Equally obvious for him would be to compromise where he could avoid party splits.

But there was a very sore point: How compromise on a civil rights plank without alienating the South since, if elected president, Goldwater would be expected to carry through on whatever the platform promised? The Goldwater forces seemed prepared for this, too.

On a television show Sunday, the senator's chief spokesman on the platform committee, Rep. John J. Rhodes, an Arizona Republican, was asked about Goldwater's views on a civil rights plank.

He gave an answer which might pacify Republicans and soothe the South.

He said Goldwater would go along with a plank, suggested by Scranton, which called for penalizing states that denied their citizens a vote. Under the 14th Amendment a state could be deprived of representatives in Congress in proportion to the number of people not voting.

But this could never be done without a tremendous fight in Congress.

Rhodes was also asked what Goldwater, as president, would do about enforcing the Civil Rights Act which he said is contrary to the Constitution.

Rhodes had an answer for that, too. "Sen. Goldwater as president of the United States would certainly require a reasonable degree of enforcement which I think would please anybody."

Reasonable is a debatable word. Enforcement which seemed reasonable to Southern whites, who oppose the Civil Rights Act, might greatly displease Negroes who want its protection.

Plan to buy a farm?

A lawyer can answer your questions

Is it all right to sign all those papers? Is the property you're buying exactly as described? Who pays the taxes for this year? Which is the best way to take title—in joint tenancy or solely in your name? (There may be a tax advantage, in your case, by not owning the home in joint tenancy with your wife.)

Your lawyer knows the answers. He will explain the purpose of each paper, make certain that your rights are protected, give you the best advice about the question of joint tenancy, in terms of your personal circumstances.

Your lawyer will explain to you, also, the importance of receiving a good title. The safest way to be sure is to ask the seller to provide a title insurance policy from Chicago Title and Trust Company.

Tracy Joins Crew on Set

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "First team" shouted the assistant director, signaling the stand-ins to step out of the scene and the stars to take their places.

Vivien Leigh, Simone Signoret, Jose Ferrer, Elizabeth Ashley and Oskar Werner entered the shipboard dining room set, and Spencer Tracy rose from his chair to join them.

The cast and crew laughed at Tracy's gag; he was responding like an old fire horse to the clanging of the bell. Although the actor is frequently on the set of "Ship of Fools," he is not working in the movie.

There had been reports that Tracy is observing Stanley Kramer's making of "Ship of Fools" with the idea of turning director himself. I asked him about that.

"I don't know," he replied. "It might be an interesting experience, but I'm not sure I have the patience to direct. I will say that I am learning a great deal by watching. You'd think I'd know all the tricks by now. But you miss a lot when you have to concentrate on your own job.

"Another reason I'm hanging around I won't go into, but it happens that this company is still paying me a lot of money.

"But if you want to know the real reason, it's because I get a free lunch every day."

He made the remark with a twinkle and it reflected his present mood, which is mellow. Tracy has been known to get his Irish up.

He is all smiles on the "Ship of Fools" set.

He looks great, belying all the fears for his health when he was stricken with a lung congestion last July and later had to withdraw from a role in "Cheyenne Autumn." His face is ruddy and his figure trim.

"Yeah, I've dropped 35 pounds," he said. "Now I can't understand how I was able to pack all that weight around. How did I get rid of it? Just by cutting down on the chow. And I get some exercise every day. I've got a dog, and we go for long walks in the country."

Tracy has signed to return to his old home grounds at MGM for "The Cincinnati Kid" with Steve McQueen. "We'll begin in October — or whenever McQueen gets back from the motorcycle races," he said.

Tracy's health kick has not caused him to give up cigarettes. He doesn't drink any more.

"But," he added with a grin, "if I never touch another drop, I figure I'll still be ahead."
